

International Conference on Hearing, Effective Communication & Swallowing (ICHECS 2027)

26th - 27th January 2027

Online Conference

Welcome to ICHECS 2027

We are pleased to welcome you to the International Conference on Hearing, Effective Communication & Swallowing (ICHECS 2027), taking place online on 26th - 27th January 2027.

ICHECS 2027 will bring together a diverse international community of clinicians, researchers, speech and hearing professionals, educators, rehabilitation specialists, policymakers, and students to exchange knowledge, present innovative research, and explore emerging developments across the fields of hearing, communication, and swallowing.

The conference will provide a dynamic platform for meaningful discussions, interdisciplinary collaboration, and the sharing of evidence-based practices aimed at advancing clinical care, research, education, and rehabilitation. Through expert presentations and engaging scientific sessions, participants will have opportunities to gain new insights, connect with colleagues, and contribute to shaping the future of these important areas of healthcare.

We warmly invite you to be part of this global gathering and to share your expertise, ideas, and experiences with colleagues from around the world.

Together, let us advance knowledge, foster collaboration, and promote better communication, hearing, and swallowing health worldwide.

We look forward to welcoming you to ICHECS 2027!
